Greetings Bobbie Lucero,

Congratulations on being awarded your certification as a professional Colorado Certified Emergency Manager (CO-CEM). Thank you for your commitment to this process and to the profession of emergency management. This certification is a peer recognition program that is evaluated and validates your abilities. This certification also increases your marketability in future employment opportunities. It also aligns with the International Association of Emergency Managers certification program if you decide to pursue additional certification.

Our industry is growing and changing each year, and this drives the need for professional standards. Having professionals certified to a level of competency legitimizes the special qualities that emergency managers must possess to serve their community. It ensures that emergency management is accepted as a professional discipline with a required body of knowledge and experience.

I encourage you to continue on your path of professional growth and mastery of the art and science of emergency management. You are a valuable member of our organization. I hope that you continue to help support initiatives to address our challenges as CEMA drives our shared, professional journey to excellence.

Again, congratulations and welcome to the CO-CEM population of CEMA.

Sincerely,

Alan Colon
